

Matriarch

From the Merriam-Webster Collegiate Dictionary...

A female who rules or dominates a family, group, or state, specifically—a mother who is head and ruler of her family and descendants

"Matriarch" represents a fine example of a foundation-bred stock horse type mare. Her gentle but alert attitude, sturdy bone and muscular build all indicate a mare destined to leave her mark upon her offspring. From the elegant arch of her neck to her capacious barrel for her future foals, she is depicted here as a young mare in her prime. This is a mare who can perform and prove herself at work or show, and yet also be equally at home with every rider in the family. Her confident, yet quiet demeanor signify her status within the herd ... and her ultimate destiny to establish a dynasty . . .

The type of mare one can build a breeding program around, and create a legacy . . .
